The matron of honor will be in white princess lace with duchesse lace berthe. The bridesmaids will have on yellow silk, and like the matron of honor, will have bouquets of yellow chrysanthemums tied with green tulle.

A reception will be given in the bride's home for the bride party, relatives and a small number of friends. The color scheme of yellow and white will prevail in house decoration.

Kent-Miller. In Second Presbyterian Church yesterday at 4 P. M., Miss Charlotte Johnston Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry R. Miller, was married to Mr. Joseph Cloyd Kent, son of Mrs. Robert C. Kent, the Rev. Russell Cecil, D. D., of Second Presbyterian Church, officiating.

The church was decorated with palms and candles. Miss Waller Jeffers was maid of honor and Mr. Paul Shafer best man. The group of bridesmaids and groomsmen included Misses Ellen Smith, of Albemarle, Va.; Lillian Rindford, of Danville; and Miss Mary Donohoe, of Fairfax; Messrs. Gray Miller, of New York; Robert M. Jeffers, of the University of Virginia; Robert N. Pollard, James A. Smith, Jr., of Charleston, S. C.; Stuart T. Christian, Joseph Bidgood and James H. Drake, Jr.

The bride entered with her father. She wore a diaphanous gown of white satin, trimmed with duchesse lace and pearls. Her veil, tulle, and her ornaments a pearl and diamond necklace. She carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and gardenias. The maid of honor was gowned in pink chiffon, trimmed with lace and satin. Her flowers were violets. The bridesmaids were in under Swiss tulle and held baskets of Killarney roses.

A reception followed the ceremony in the home of the bride, on West Avenue, house decorations being in palms, Southern smilax and chrysanthemums. Out-of-town guests, including the wedding were Mrs. E. U. Averett, of New York.

Fat Women Look Sloppy.

Beauty and Grace Disappear With Fat. A woman's form is essentially one of grace; the lines of beauty vanish as fat accumulates and instead of beauty we see bulk, and what was once fair becomes a fright.

Burch officiating. Miss Rebecca Courtney was maid of honor and Mr. Giles Courtney best man. Other attendants were Messrs. L. M. Fuqua, J. P. Bray, U. C. Truehart and E. S. Perdue.

The bride wore white mull and carried bride roses. After a bridal trip North she and her husband will live at Clifton, Va.

Historian-General. At the general convention of the Daughters of the Confederacy, held last week in Atlanta, a new office, that of historian-general, was created, and Mrs. J. E. Robinson, of this city, was elected to fill it. The office is an honor, and the choice of the convention fell on one eminently suited in every way to fill it. Mrs. Robinson has returned from Atlanta to her home, No. 113 South Third Street, this city.

Travel Talk at Club. Instead of the meeting of the Literary Round Table, Mrs. Lucetta M. Knox will give a travel talk here next week. Mrs. Knox has had extensive European experiences at the Woman's Club this afternoon. Mrs. John S. Munce, chairman of the afternoon, has been called to New York by the illness of her son, Mr. John Munce, and Miss Knox takes her place.

Star-at-Home Club. The Star-at-Home Whist Club will hold its next meeting with Miss Helen Montague, of No. 113 East Franklin Street.

At the meeting held last Monday evening in the home of Mr. John Tyler, entertainers provided, and top score was made by Mrs. W. R. Robins and Miss Margaret Morson.

Important Meeting. The Junior Hollywood Memorial Association will meet Thursday at 11 A. M. in Lee Camp Hall, important business in reference to the annual Thanksgiving dinner given the veterans at Lee Camp Hall will be discussed, and all members are asked to be present.

To Hear Reports. The postponed meeting of Richmond Chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy, will be held this morning at 11 o'clock in Lee Camp Hall. Reports from the general convention held last week in Atlanta will be heard, and the meeting for that reason will be one of unusual interest.

Arts and Crafts Exhibit. The Arts and Crafts exhibit, directed by Mrs. R. M. Blankenship and Miss Carrie Coleman, will open next Monday at 10 A. M. in the ground floor of No. 201 East Franklin Street. All contributors should send their contributions by Thursday of this week.

to Mrs. R. M. Blankenship, of No. 510 East Franklin Street.

The Colonial tea room of the exhibit will be attractively decorated, and tea will be served by a bevy of pretty debutantes.

Musical for Mothers Club. The musical which will be given Friday, November 20th, at the Ginter Park Assembly Hall, under the auspices of the Mothers' Club, promises to be a most enjoyable affair. The proceeds from the musical will be used to further the kindergarten work. The program will open with a quartet, "Sleep, Kentucky Babe," by Messrs. Phillips, Hassell, Melvor and Manor. This will be followed by an "Elegy" on Mrs. Frank Duke's violin.

Miss Grace Greenwood will render Galloway's "Gipsy Trail" and a selection by Miss Brown will come next. Part second will include two numbers by Mrs. F. V. Gunn, Nevada's "Nightingale Song," and Rose's "Sweet Eyes of Blue." Mrs. Frank Duke will play Dredia's "Soprano" and "The Swan." A quartet, "Whisper of Will," by Messrs. Phillips, Hassell, Melvor and Manor, will conclude the performance.

Personal Mention. Miss Betty Clark has returned to Richmond, after being the guest of Mrs. J. H. Callahan, at Gladys Inn, Clifton Forge.

Ambassador Bryce and Mrs. Bryce, of Washington, have gone South with Mr. Robert Ogden, of New York, the head of the educational movement. They will visit Booker T. Washington's school at Tuskegee, Ala.

TESTED AND PROVEN

There is a Heap of Solace in Being Able to Depend Upon a Well-Earned Reputation.

For months Richmond readers have seen the constant expression of praise for Don's Kidney Pills, and read about the good work they have done in this locality. Not another remedy ever produced such convincing proof of merit. James W. Blanton, living at 1035 Floyd Street, Richmond, Va., says: "Don's Kidney Pills in my case acted up to representations. One box cured the entire complaint, and completely eradicated the complaint in my back, which had annoyed me for two years. I procured this remedy at the Owens & Minor Drug Co." (From statement given January 2, 1903.)

A PERMANENT CURE. On July 22, 1907, Mr. Blanton conferred his previous statement, saying: "Since Don's Kidney Pills cured me of kidney trouble I have not used them. I think just as highly of them at this time as when I gave a statement recommending them in 1903, and I will be glad to give the details of my case to any one who calls upon me."

TO MEET NO MORE IN SALOON TOWNS

the following resolution on the death of Senator Carmack, which was adopted by a rising vote:

"We, the Baptist General Association of Virginia, interested in every good and righteous cause, and deeply interested in particular in every movement for the abolition of the open saloon, that stands the menace to the best interests of society and deadly to the progress of the kingdom of God, would put on record and convey to our temperance brethren in Tennessee, our sister and neighbor State, assurance of our sincere sympathy with them in the great issue of the constituted authorities, by the death of former Senator Carmack, who was shot and killed on the streets of Nashville on the 9th of November. It is not proper that we should preclude his memory, who are now in the hands of the constituted authorities, but the circumstances of his death, together with those of other similar tragedies recently reported in the secular papers, furnish fit occasion for an earnest protest against the lack of esteem for the sacredness of human life which is characteristic of our country."

"Within the past few days four attempted assassinations of prominent men in various portions of our country have been reported. One of these murderous attacks was made by a lunatic, who, by a discharged employe upon the grounds of the State House, shot and killed Senator Carmack, who was shot and killed on the streets of Nashville on the 9th of November. It is not proper that we should preclude his memory, who are now in the hands of the constituted authorities, but the circumstances of his death, together with those of other similar tragedies recently reported in the secular papers, furnish fit occasion for an earnest protest against the lack of esteem for the sacredness of human life which is characteristic of our country."

"If these were rare and isolated incidents, we might think of them as in passing in the midst of our most important general work to take any action. But, horrible as they are, they are mere items in a long list, which is daily growing longer, and which shock the moral sense of our people and lay on us the justly merited reproach of the civilized world."

"We urge our ministers to teach these people more frequently and earnestly the law of God against the wanton taking of human life, and respectfully but urgently request the constituted authorities of the country to enact such laws as may prevent, as far as possible, the recurrence of these tragedies, and to punish promptly the offenders when they do occur."

After brief remarks by Rev. W. C. Taylor, D. D., of Petersburg, who urged pastors to see to it that the men over whom they had influence registered and paid their taxes, in order that they might be qualified to perform their duties as citizens in the coming struggle, the resolution was adopted unanimously.

A resolution of thanks for hospitable entertainment, offered by Rev. W. M. Seay, including acknowledgments to the press for impartial reports, and to the railroads for special rates, was adopted.

Morning Session. Devotional services at 9 o'clock, conducted by Rev. P. H. Chelf, of Roanoke, were followed by a discussion of the Baptist Young People's Union, a report on this subject being read by Rev. Amos Clary. The following resolution was adopted:

"Whereas the B. Y. P. U. stands for the unification of our Baptist young people, a deeper spiritual life among them, their larger education in the Bible and church history, and their wider training in Christian service, be it Resolved, That the General Association of Virginia commend to the young people's work to the pastors and churches of this State."

A report on the Sunday-school encampment, from a special committee to which this was referred was presented by Rev. R. E. L. Ayler. The following resolution was adopted:

"That the encampment be continued as a permanent feature of our denominational life."

"That an executive committee of fifteen members, including the officers of the encampment, be appointed to direct the affairs entrusted to them between sessions of this body. A majority of this committee shall reside in or near Richmond, but each of the five sections of the State shall have representation on the committee."

It is desired that the work of this committee be considered auxiliary to the General Association and that a report be made each year to that body.

"That this committee be empowered to fill any vacancy that may occur in the interim between meetings."

(Signed) "R. E. L. Ayler, A. L. Gardner, D. M. Ramsey, Julian Broadbush, C. H. Hays."

The committee on time and place of next meeting of the association reported in favor of Court Street Church, Portsmouth, on the second Friday in November, 1909. Rev. W. C. James, pastor of Grove Avenue Church, Richmond, was appointed to prepare the annual sermon with Rev. W. C. Taylor, D. D., of Petersburg, as alternate. The report was adopted after debate, and the advisability of meeting on Friday.

Laymen's Movement. Discussion of the Laymen's Missionary Movement was led by Dr. Livius Lankford, of Norfolk, head of the laymen's work in Virginia. A report given by Dr. Lankford and Dr. Lewis H. Mosher, was presented, showing the growth of the work.

"This is no new organization," said Dr. Lankford. "It adds no machinery, collects no funds, employs no officers, but aims to aid the efficiency of existing missionary organizations. The churches have spent a generation in praying for the way to open into heathen lands. The way is now open. There are almost every land. The Student Volunteer Movement is ready to supply the men. Missionary societies are ready to send the women. We are already converted, 1,000,000 more are attending schools and hospitals work. The South has the money. It is accumulating $7,000,000 a day. Our prayers have been answered. We have the means. Why cannot we church go into this promised land and possess it?"

The subject was further discussed by Hon. Joshua Levering, of Baltimore, former candidate for the presidency on the Prohibition ticket, who made a strong appeal for a wider missionary work, telling of his trip through the East, China, Japan and India, and of the need for rapidity in reaching Western progress. Railroads, telephones, water systems and newspapers were described as pushing the way into the interior of cities.

"Our belief and hope," said Mr. Levering, "is not that the heathen nations will be converted in this generation, but that they will be evangelized; given their opportunity to hear; have the gospel sent them; and only obligation. The time opportunity will be the churches of America take advantage of it."
